What is a Type Acceptance Certificate (TAC) and do I need one?

When a type and model of imported aircraft have been accepted in Maldives the Civil Aviation Department issues a TAC. Individual examples of the type and model of aircraft are then eligible for issue of certificates of airworthiness in the category nominated in the TAC. If you wish to introduce a type and model of aircraft new to Maldives you should apply to CAD for the issue of a TAC.

CAD is able to issue a TAC if the aircraft type is the subject of a Type Certificate (TC) issued according to MCAR-21.12
A TAC is issued in respect of an aircraft type but there is no holder of the TAC. The applicant for the TAC will be provided with a copy of the TAC.

Part A - Applicant's Details

The name, address and contact details should be adequate for enquiries from CAD about the aircraft nominated on the application.

Identification - Individuals must provide the following documentation as proof of identity, unless the documentation has previously been supplied to the CAD, or the nominee is the holder of a valid license issued by CAD.
Company's must provide the company's name as registered in the Ministry of Economic Development and Trade. For foreign applicants, please provide a copy of your nationally recognised registration record.

Proof of identity includes National ID card for Maldivians and Passport for foreigners

Part B - Aircraft Description

You must also support your application by supplying all the documents required by MCAR-21.15(b).

You must nominate the airworthiness category or categories in which you want Maldivian certificates of airworthiness to be issued. (This will normally be the category or categories nominated on the foreign TC.)
